

Hon. Tilafono David Hunter

Hon. Aiolupotea Tony Aiolupotea

CONGRATULATIONS

Two SSOAP members have made it into Samoa's Parliament in the August 2025 General Election. Both hail from the big island of Savaii, and they all served in the Agriculture Sector during their many years as public servants. Hon. Tilafono is now serving as the Associate Minister at the Ministry of Women, Community and Social Development (MWCSD), while Hon. Aiolupotea is the Associate Minister at the Ministry of Agriculture and Fisheries (MAF).

Both Parliamentarians have had many years of experience in the Agriculture Sector, thus providing the opportunities and leadership roles at the highest level of Government, in order to boost Samoa's economy through a wide range of ongoing and future National Agricultural Developments/Interventions.

SSOAP now has the necessary support available in terms of technical expertise, which is wide ranging in its membership, with respect to the various disciplines/specialties (viz. livestock, crops, ornamental, hydroponics, tissue culture, and animal feed). In addition, the organisation can provide the services which may be required in consultancy, advisory, training, and proposal writing. On that note, SSOAP is looking forward to future collaborations on needs such as to propose and/or deliver projects, improve farmers' access to potential services at their exposure, and to be engaged with intervention partnerships.
